

Communication Consultancy Grayling CDR Belgium

Vacancy Internship

Grayling CDR Belgium is an all-round communication consultancy active in public relations, corporate communication, issue & crisis management, financial communication and brand PR. Autogrill, Basic-Fit, Carmignac, DHL, EY, Nikon and Oracle are some of our clients for whom we love to make a difference.

For our Brussels-based office (partly remote), we are constantly looking for enthusiastic future communication experts that are eager to learn everything about the different aspects of the PR business in a challenging internship (minimum 10, preferably 12 or more weeks).

Are you that trilingual (Dutch/French native and professional knowledge of French/Dutch and English) PR lover who is passionate about communication? Willingness to learn, a positive work attitude and flexibility is for us far more relevant than any experience.

Your job

- ✓ You are a full-fledged team member and support for the PR team
- ✓ You draft and edit press releases and other corporate documents
- ✓ You help in the research, planning and development of communication strategies and campaigns
- ✓ You monitor the media for client/sector coverage and potential crisis situations
- ✓ You assist in organising press conferences and other corporate events
- ✓ You assist in the development and implementation of social media strategies for our clients and assist in their content creation

Our perfect candidate

- ✓ You are passionate about communication
- ✓ You are always up-to-date on the current (economic) news and (social) media trends
- ✓ You are quick, flexible, stress resistant and willing to learn
- ✓ You have terrific editing skills and an eye for detail. Graphic skills are a plus
- ✓ You speak Dutch or French as a native language and are very fluent in French or Dutch and English

Our offer to you

Do you believe that you are the ideal match for our team? Send your CV and cover letter to GraylingPRBelgium@grayling.com. We hope to hear from you soon!

About Us

Grayling CDR Belgium (°2008) has a long track record on the Belgian market, building on the heritage and expertise of its predecessors PR Force (°1993) and Trimedia (first brand change in 2005).

In Belgium, we offer long term strategic communication support as well as ad hoc advice. Our clients are spread across varying sectors such as consumer brands, financial & professional services, production industries. Our agency specializes in the following services:

- Media relations
- Reputation management
- Expert profiling
- Issue & crisis management
- Transaction communication
- Stakeholder and media events

Grayling CDR Belgium provides Belux expertise and is part of the global Grayling network, the world's second largest independent Public Relations, Public Affairs, Investor Relations and Events consultancy. Our network is spread all across Europe, the US, the Middle East and Asia Pacific. By working across borders, we have the ability to develop a tailored Benelux offer as well as a broader international service.

In addition to the Belgian communication practice, our offices house an international public affairs department which services a diverse client portfolio on the level of the European Institutions.
